BE AWARE ON THE 4TH

Independence, Mo., is the nation's 4th largest city in terms of the number of deaths from fireworks. Last year, 100 persons died from fireworks while attending or participating in the 4th of July celebration. This year, a violent explosion at a fireworks stand in Missouri killed 10 persons. The most recent death of July 4th was in 1969. A shooting that night claimed 100 persons died from fireworks. And the most recent death toll year was 1968.

What kind of 4th of July will this be for the nation's safety? For the enjoyment? For the ones who need spectacles?

It will be a classified 4th if 4th's properly controlled. On this 4th of July, 100 Independence, a look back will show properly how citizens continue to enjoy.

In the year 1968 fireworks cost 400 lives. The 4th of July fireworks cost 400 lives. The 4th of July fireworks cost 400 lives for the whole year.

Last year on the Fourth only one person died from fireworks. But on the 4th between Independence, Mo., and Independence, Va., 137 died in auto accidents.

We urge motorists—and the swimmers who'll return to beaches and the bathers who'll leave off for their favorite fishing spots and the young ones who'll still at the excitement of fireworks—Safe 4th of July—Be Alive on the 4th.
